VELOCITIE Welcomes New Consultants

GREEN BAY, WISCONSIN – September 26, 2007 – VELOCITIE Integration, Inc., a leading provider of integrated GIS solutions, today announced the hiring of two senior consultants, Lee Halbrook and Larry Weinberger, to address the company's growing business practice in Cityworks implementation and application development.

Larry joins the Colorado-based office as a senior consultant with 10+ years of software design and development experience. His prior GIS experience includes six years of product and application design, development and technical support using ESRI's ArcObjects, ArcGIS, and ArcSDE. Larry will be supporting a variety of clients including electric and gas utilities, telecommunication companies and public safety (9-1-1) projects.

Mr. Halbrook has 14 years experience serving as a GIS professional in the public sector, utility and forestry industries. Most recently, Mr. Halbrook spent nine years at the City of Wausau, Wisconsin, where he was responsible for the coordination, development and management of all geographic information system activities. During his tenure, the City completed several initiatives including deploying applications for utility management, mobile mapping and internet/intranet map publishing.. Based in the Green Bay corporate office, he provides implementation consulting and technical support services for industry leading geospatial technology, including Azteca Systems' Cityworks, ESRI's ArcGIS, TC Technologies' GO!Sync and Trimble's GPS and remote sensing.

President, Bart Koenig, commented, "VELOCITIE continues to grow our experienced team of consultants to meet our expanding client base. The knowledge, work ethic and customer focus that Larry and Lee bring to our team represents VELOCITIE's commitment to providing our clients the best talent that the industry has to offer."
